

Escape from Pillau (East Prussia) to Pforzheim

I will show my grandmother's escape from Pillau to Pforzheim with an interactive map. All texts are written from the I perspective.

This is the only piece,
which my grandma had rescued from life in Pillau.

This is a Siemens 53 WL radio that inexplicably found its way from Pillau to Pforzheim without having been taken with it. One is still undecided how it has found the long way to Pforzheim. Most likely, a relative of the family took it with him.

This map was created on the base of an interview with my grandma and a few researches on the Internet.

All image rights are clarified with the family and are legal.

The inserted images have been researched via Google images and inserted later.
